

Gard appoints senior underwriter in London office

14 February 2018

Gard announced today that Louise Nevill has been appointed as a Vice President, to lead the underwriting team in the London office.

Bjornar Andresen, Chief Underwriting Officer at Gard commented “London is globally significant as a marine insurance market and, as a world leader in P&I and Hull, our office there is key to our participation in it. Louise’s deep experience and expertise in both the marine markets, and more widely across different business structures, will be an invaluable addition to our entire underwriting business and our ambition to make Gard an integral part of the London market.”

Louise Nevill said: “Gard is a world class marine business with a tremendous global network and a singular focus on the maritime industries. I am delighted to be joining them to help strengthen Gard’s position in the London market and deliver the client service that is a vital part of the brand.”

Prior to joining Gard, Louise was Director of Underwriting at W/R/B Underwriting, Lloyd’s Syndicate 1967, where she established from scratch their marine business in 2010. Previously she was Head of Marine and Energy at Talbot Underwriting.
